MILLERSBURG COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

—One hundred and fifty new books from the Kentucky Library Commission at Frankfort, have just been received and are ready for use. These books are open to the public for reading.

—The following were visitors at the Wednesday morning Chapel exercises: Mesdames M. C. Grimes, G. W. Judy, Ed. Hill, Carl Henson, Mrs. Henson, Jas. Burroughs, Mollie Burroughs, Tom Dwelly, J. W. Lancaster, Edgar Hurst, Tom Stone, Sherman Mitchell, Misses Nannie Burroughs, Edna Clarke, Lillian Bockin, Little Misses Christine Lancaster and Elizabeth Hill, Master James Stone, and Messrs. M. C. Grimes and Thomas Stone. Under the direction of Miss Nannie D. Clarke, the First Grade gave a most interesting program, thus reviving the grade chapel exercises that were so interesting last year. Demonstration work in reading and penmanship proved beyond a doubt that "little folks" can accomplish much under an efficient teacher. "Will You Be My Valentine" was one entertaining feature wherein the little lads and lassies appeared in most attractive costume, while the cherry tree was actually cut down by a representative little George Washington. Minor parts on the program were well rendered. Altogether it was most creditable to both teacher and pupils, notwithstanding the fact that chicken pox and bad colds have but recently kept many of the children out of school.

—The basket ball game between the first team of Carlisle High and the first girls' team of Millersburg High, and the second boys' team of Carlisle High against Millersburg High's second team resulted in a score of 32 to 4 in favor of Millersburg girls' team and 22 to 11 in favor of Carlisle High. Two of Millersburg's best players on second boys' team, Price and Hickman were unable to play.

FINE QUILTS FOR CHINA HOSPITAL ON DISPLAY

Eight fine quilts, fashioned by deft fingers of ladies of the Paris Baptist church, destined for the Stout Memorial Hospital, in Wu Chow, China, are on display at the millinery store of Mrs. Corne Baird, on Main street.

The ladies of the church have been very busy for several weeks preparing a box to be shipped to this hospital, where Mrs. Ullie Leavell, formerly Miss Charlotte Henry, of Paris, is stationed. They will be glad to have anyone interested call at Mrs. Baird's store and inspect the display.

MELTON

—Carrie Melton, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melton, died at the family home on Winnie street, Tuesday following a short illness from pneumonia. The funeral was held Wednesday morning, with services conducted at the grave in the Paris Cemetery by Rev. Arthur Fox, pastor of the Paris Baptist church.

THOMAS

Mrs. Mary Thomas, aged seventy-five, mother of Mrs. Boone Baldwin, of Paris, died Monday at the home of her daughter Mrs. A. Ashton Thornton in Montcoal, West Va., after an illness of several days, resulting from a stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Baldwin was summoned to her mother's bedside, arriving Monday.

Mrs. Thomas is survived by the following children: Mrs. H. Fink, of Huntington, West Va.; Mrs. C. A. Bridges, of Lager, West Va.; Mrs. Boone Baldwin, of Paris; Fred Thomas, of South Dakota; William and Clarence Thomas, of Parkersburg, W. Va.

The funeral and burial took place at Huntington, West Va., at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Baldwin and son, Clarence Baldwin, who is attending the M. M. I. attended the funeral and burial.

TAYLOR

A telegram received in Paris announced the death of Mrs. Julia Worthington Taylor, aged about fifty-five, daughter of the late S. M. Worthington, formerly of Paris, which occurred in Norman, Okla., at six o'clock Monday evening. Mrs. Taylor suffered a stroke of paralysis Monday at noon, while dining at the home of a friend, and died six hours later.

Mrs. Taylor was a native of Mason county, and was the widow of John Taylor, of near Maysville. She was a woman of fine intellectual attainments and had for several years been prominently identified with educational work in the University of Oklahoma. She was a graduate of Hamilton College, in Lexington, and numbered among her schoolmates some of the most prominent women of Bourbon county. She had often been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Luncford Talbott, and Mr. Talbott, in this city.

Mrs. Taylor is survived by two sons, Robert Taylor and Worthington Taylor, both of Oklahoma; one daughter, Miss Lottie R. Taylor, of Oklahoma; one sister, Mrs. Luncford Talbott, of Paris; and the following nieces and nephews: Miss Lena Talbott, Mrs. Garrett Jefferson and Mrs. William Taylor, of Paris, and Matt S. Worthington, of Lexington.

The funeral was held in Norman, with services conducted at the grave in the Norman Cemetery, beside the body of her husband.

James Oliver Curwood Presents "The Golden Snare"

A Royal North-West sergeant on a man-hunt! A baby found in a blizzard. A snare made of a girl's golden hair. A real Curwood tale of Arctic mystery and frozen peril. It's a stirring story of what happened when the sergeant got his man—a mad loup-garou—and found him sheltering a girl—a glorious girl of mystery whose hair laid the trail of the golden snare

ANITA STEWART IN "The Invisible Fear"

SOME FASCINATING FACTS—"The Invisible Fear" stands among the most sumptuous plays the inimitable star has ever produced. The wardrobe she presents constitutes a style-show in itself. Again she has two leading men—Walter McGrail and Alan Forrest. There are thrills aplenty in a careering cross-country horseback paper-chase, in elemental tempests and emotional storms. And on top of all—a story strong in drama, romance and the unexpected.

You See Two of Him—Him and Himself. : You See Him Two Times All the Time.

First he's a golfing hobo, with more fancy strokes than Chick Evans ever knew and more ways of getting a ball than a red-headed caddy. That's "That's Himself." Then he's a millionaire hubby in love with a cocktail-shaker instead of his wife. That's "Him." But when "Him" finds "Himself" telling a wonderful tale to "Him's" own wife—well better see what happens for yourself. A riot from first tee to the time they undress him with a can-opener.
